

Ratings Based on AI

These ratings were made solely based on 3 different categories: Overall Record, Team Name and Roster Build.

1.	More Js than J Crew – Nate Woo <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Team Name: 4.5/5 (Creative and catchy)• Record: 6-0• Roster: 5/5 (Strong roster with top-tier players)• Overall: 4.8/5
2.	Oakford Lake Boys – Alex Parasells <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Team Name: 3.5/5 (Unique but not directly related to fantasy football)• Record: 5-1• Roster: 4.5/5 (Solid roster with strong players)• Overall: 4.3/5
3.	Derek C. & Raheem – Paxton Leaf <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Team Name: 3/5 (Simple and direct)• Record: 3-3• Roster: 4/5 (Strong players, good balance)• Overall: 3.5/5
4.	J.Crew – Jacob Luft <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Team Name: 3/5 (Straightforward, reflects simplicity)• Record: 3-3• Roster: 3.5/5 (Good players, potential to improve)• Overall: 3.2/5
5.	Cilence of Dee Lambs – Erik Fretland <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Team Name: 4/5 (Playful wordplay)• Record: 3-3• Roster: 4/5 (Solid players, potential to perform better)• Overall: 3.8/5
6.	Thiel So Good – Tim Gehrsitz <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Team Name: 3/5 (Clever play on words)• Record: 3-3• Roster: 3.5/5 (Good balance, solid starters)• Overall: 3.2/5
7.	Bourne-Achane Virgins – Stone Brackett <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Team Name: 3.5/5 (Creative and relevant)• Record: 2-4• Roster: 3.5/5 (Solid players, some injury concerns)• Overall: 3.3/5
8.	DoorDash Franchise – Ethan Brody

- Team Name: 2.5/5 (Funny, but unrelated to fantasy)
- Record: 2-4
- Roster: 3.5/5 (Good players, need to step up performance)
- Overall: 2.8/5

9. ChristianMinecraftServer – Bryce Rombach

- Team Name: 2.5/5 (Unconventional and intriguing, but not directly related to fantasy football)
- Record: 2-4
- Roster: 3/5 (Good players, need better performance)
- Overall: 2.7/5

10. The Bottom Feeders – Perry Powell

- Team Name: 2.5/5 (Descriptive, but self-deprecating)
- Record: 1-5
- Roster: 3/5 (Some strong players, need improvement)
- Overall: 2.3/5

This is exactly how'd you think it would go, but there needs to be a human element to it. So, these ratings are going to be Eth's Magical Ratings. I'll give an honest rating, but the catch is I'm only basing the rankings off the kicker.

1. DoorDash Franchise

Kicker: Younghoe Koo

Koo is the greatest kicker in NFL history. It isn't even close. He once had back-to-back onside kicks recovered which is all you need to know. Out of Georgia State he never left the state to create a career and legacy that will never be matched. There is no bias and all just straight facts.

2. More Js than J Crew

Kicker: Jake Elliot

Elliot has shown that he is in the top tier of elite kickers. Time and time again he has shown that the Eagles don't need to score TDs for them to win. He will put the team on his back and take them to victory. It doesn't matter the yardage, its going in. The only reason he is number two is that he isn't the greatest kicker of all-time. Reminder: I am not being bias, straight facts.

3. Bourne-Achane Virgins

Kicker: Tyler Bass

Jungle Japes = FFFIIIISSSSSHHHHH

4. The bottom feeders

Kicker: Evan McPherson

The only reason this team is so high is based on the last name of the kicker and how much of an assassin he was in the playoffs that one time. Evan Mick-Fear-Sun pronounces his name correctly compared to US town that has a similar name. I won't name it, but you'll get the jest once you figure it out.

5. ChristianMinecraftServer

Kicker: Harrison Butker

Hehehe...But

6. Oakland Lake Boys

Kicker: Ka'imi Fairbairn

Fairbairn is a very mid kicker that has some upside, but he just shows up and does his job. Through all the turmoil the Texans franchise has been through, Fairbairn has been professional and continues to churn through the league.

7. Thiel So Good

Kicker: Brandon Aubrey

This not so young rookie kicker is built different. From the MLS to the NFL, he made the choice to kick egg rather than ball. A poor choice and futbol is better than American football, but eh he's doing alright, I guess. The reason he is so low is because of his choice to play American Football, he went to Notre Dame and plays for the Dallas Cowboys. All are horrible decisions.

8. Derek C. Raheem

Kicker: Jason Sanders

Sanders is the most inconsistent kicker in the league as he'll bang in 60 yarders like its nothing, or he will curl up in a ball and cry because Mike McDaniel is a meanie that only scores TDs and doesn't let Jason kick. Jason needs to seek a trade to a team that scores less TDs, so he can fulfill his destiny as the best kicker for a franchise that can't score TDs aka the New York Giants.

9. Cilence of Dee Lambs

Kicker: Jake Moody

This rookie is just getting started but forgot the clutch gene at Michigan. Moody can't win a game to save his life and allows for sorry franchises like the Browns to ruin perfect seasons. The only reason he isn't last is that he went to Michigan which is better than Wisconsin, and the last kicker is big doo doo.

10. LITERALLY EVERY KICKER THAT HAS KICKED IN THE NFL, DEAF OR ALIVE

11. J. Crew

Kicker: Justin Tucker

Tucker may be considered the best kicker in the NFL, but they are all wrong. His favorite color is orange and loves Bevo. Two things I couldn't hate more. Tucker also likes to be super dramatic with his kicks with doinks and kicking from a bigillion yards away. Tucker continues to be the worst kicker in history and will never become great until he confesses two things: One, that OU is better than Texas and Two, Wisconsin is the toilet bowl of the Big Ten.